The library web site is the gateway to both physical and online library resources. Online resources, such as eBooks, eJournals and databases are the fastest growing part of our collection, and they are available to ORU students at any time from any internet connection.

* The library has special services available to facilitate access to all of our collection by Distance Learners.

Students who live an hour or more from campus are eligible for Distance Learner services. The Distance Learner Library Services web page has information and links to help Distance Learners access books and other materials from the library, and much more.

Videos, instruction pages and links to library guides are available on the “How To” tab of the Distance Learner Library page.
Library Resources for Online Learners, Part 1. Introduction

To request help with library services or resources, Distance Learners can contact the Distance Learner Librarian by email or phone.

All students can contact a librarian by using the Ask-A-Librarian link on the library web page. The Ask-A-Librarian email is monitored by reference librarians who can help with research. The phone number provided here rings at the Reference Desk. Librarians are available until 10 pm every evening except Friday.

Online resources are available to you 24/7 from any internet connection. Your key to accessing online resources is your single sign-in.

* Use the Off-Campus Access link on the library web page to log in with your network username and password, the same as your “single sign-on”.

Your single sign-in is the same login used to access D2L. If you need help with your login, contact the IT Help Desk.

Whenever you have an opportunity to visit the ORU campus, please stop by the library, on the 4th floor of the Learning Resource Center. We will be happy to see you whenever you are here.

Please view the other video parts of this presentation to learn more about accessing and using library resources.
